State gears up system for COVID-19 vaccination

Bengaluru, Oct.24 (SSV)- Karnataka has initiated the preparedness activities and collection of data of healthcare workers as per guidelines and Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) given by Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare.

Medical Education and Health Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar has said "while it is the aim of our Government to provide vaccination to each and every citizen at the earliest, the first priority is to administer vaccine to all healthcare workers, both in Government and private sector."

He said Government of India is planning for introduction of COVID-19 vaccine and has initiated the preparedness activities in this regard. In the initial phase all healthcare workers will be the beneficiaries. Details of vaccine date will be communicated from Government of India. All districts have started district-level orientation for all Government and private health facilities. Standard templates for collection of details of healthcare workers is being shared to all the healthcare facilities. Categories of healthcare facilities include frontline health workers, ANMs, ASHA, Anganwadi workers, Staff Nurses and Supervisors, Medical Officers, AYUSH doctors, Para-medical staff, Scientist and Research staff, Medical, Para-medical and Nursing students, support staff and administrative staff, others working in Government and private Hospitals, Colleges, Clinics and Labs.

He said all the health facilities through Karnataka Private Medical Establishments Act (KPME) are being informed through online portal and SMS messages for timely data collection. Professional bodies including IMA, PHANA, IAP are actively involved. Immunisation partners UNDP, WHO and UNICEF will provide technical support to Government in this initiative.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Government's ambitious plan to leverage the National Digital Health Mission (NDHM) to ensure a robust vaccine delivery system raises some concerns. On first glance, it may look as if NDHM's convenience as a central repository for citizens' medical history makes it a ready fit for tracking vaccine delivery and patient outcomes. But there's a catch: It's a fledgling system launched some months ago – on August 15 – on a pilot basis in six Union Territories. In contrast, the COVID vaccination effort for just the first phase could involve a whopping 30 crore across the country. NDHM wouldn't be able to scale up this rapidly. The massive vaccine delivery effort needed to stop COVID-19 can't be allowed to be held back because of glitches in the supporting IT network. NDHM can, without doubt, be useful in public healthcare. It could give doctors a patient's medical history, avoid needless repeat tests or procedures and generate digitised health data for research purposes. The Union Health Ministry has clarified that possessing a digital health ID, NDHM's unique identifier, will not be mandatory to get vaccinated. Other identification cards will be accepted too.

Data collection from vaccinated individuals is indeed important and must be pursued as a voluntary exercise. Ongoing upgradation of the electronic Vaccine Intelligence Network system used by the Universal Immunisation Programme to track routine immunisation, vaccine stocks and cold chain storage can serve the official data reporting needs without putting the burden on citizens. Rolling out NDHM is another reason to enact data protection laws which give citizens meaningful privacy rights and remedies. Missteps like overly stringent lockdowns that forgot migrant workers and demonetisation that wrecked SMEs reveal the pitfalls of centralisation and lack of flexibility. Vaccine delivery will be a complicated process even without yoking it to the unproven NDHM. Let's keep the design simple, supple and flexible.

Stone-cut wonders take years to complete, cost up to $1 million

Moscow: A stonecutting workshop has managed to raise the art of volumetric mosaic stone cutting to a level never reached before in all of human history.

Volumetric mosaic has been practiced by Russian craftsmen and artisans for over a century, but Alexei Antonov's stonecutting workshop in Yekaterinburg has elevated the art form to a whole new level, by incorporating precious metals in the detailed sculptures and using modern technology to make the artworks stunningly detailed.

It's a laborious and time-consuming process, and depending on size and intricacy, a single composition can take a team of five or six artisans two or three years to complete. The smallest sculptures can sell for up to $20,000. Mid-size works up to $100,000 and the largest volumetric mosaic sculptures can cost up to a million dollars.

Man arrives at his birthday party, finds surprise funeral for him

Salt Lake City: A man, who arrived at a celebration to mark his 33rd year of living, found himself walking into his very own funeral.

His boyfriend Skylar Westerdahl (who is now his husband) had come up with the quirky idea to throw him a funeral because he felt that people shouldn't have to die in order for their friends to say why they loved them.

Skylar decorated a friend's house for the occasion, creating a fake casket. He also hung up photos of Eli around the place and arranged for all of the guests to dress in black. The funeral service lasted for about 30 minutes with featured slideshow of photos.

Actor in dock over Tiger's video in social media

Served notice to appear for enquiry

Dhanveer Gowda

Gundlupet, Oct. 24 (MTY& SSV)- Forest Department has served a notice on Kannada actor Dhanveer Gowda for allegedly putting a video clipping of a night safari in Bandipur Tiger Reserve on Thursday. He has been asked to appear before an enquiry today failing which a First Information Report (FIR) will be filed for violation of rules.

In fact, night safari has been banned in Bandipur forest following an appeal by animal lovers contending that allowing people inside the forest after dark will cause irritation to wild animals. Since then no one is allowed inside the forest except for Forest Department personnel for patrolling.

According to information available here, Dhanveer Gowda, who made a big-screen debut in 2019 through 'Bazaar,' a Kannada movie, came to Bandipur on Thursday at 5 pm and went for safari from Melukamanahalli counter in a jeep.

While returning from Bolagudda Road side towards the reception, they spotted a tiger at around 6.30 pm. Since it was dark, the safari vehicle driver reportedly switched on head light to help the actor and his friends to videograph tiger in mobile phone.

Dhanveer and his friends have put two video clipping on social media platform on the same day claiming that they spotted tiger during night safari.

Actor slammed

Once it appeared in social media, animal lovers took the Forest Department to task for allowing the actor for night safari when it has been banned for all.

The higher-ups were baffled when media started showing the video clipping of night safari by the actor.

Sensing trouble, Dhanveer removed the video from the social media platform.

They wanted to know why the light was switched on focusing at the tiger despite knowing that it will affect its privacy. The actor has showed 'heroism' inside the forest and has videographed of him touching and kissing the elephants in the Jumbo camp, and also of elephant ride.

GPS reveals truth

The Department has installed the Global Positioning System (GPS) on all vehicles used in Bandipur Tiger Reserve to locate its movement.

While examining, the officials came to know that the vehicle in which Dhanveer and his friends went in the safari had returned 15 minutes late. The videograph of tiger had been done between 6.28 pm and 6.31 pm. The safari jeep had returned to the counter at 6.40 pm.

Treating it as an evidence, the Department has decided action against the actor and served notice on him directing him for his personal appearance before the officials for an enquiry.

> We are enquiring about the Kannada actor going on night safari in Bandipur Tiger Reserve. If it is true, Police complaint will be lodged against the actor.

Rowdy-sheeter hacked to death near Srirangapatna

Harish

Srirangapatna, Oct. 24 (Vinay Karekura &KS)- A rowdy-sheeter was allegedly hacked to death over suspected rivalry near Srirangapatna on Thursday night. The slain rowdy-sheeter is Harish (30) of Palahalli in Srirangapatna taluk of Mandya district.

On Thursday at about 10 pm, Harish, who was on his way to Palahalli from Srirangapatna in his car, was reportedly being followed by miscreants in two cars, who rammed into the car near Ranganathittu Cross in Srirangapatna Police limits.

The miscreants, who got down from their cars, threw chilli powder on Harish and allegedly hacked him to death with machetes and fled from the spot.

Senior Police officials, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar and shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary in Mysuru.

The body was kept at the mortuary yesterday as a precautionary step to avoid any untoward incident from taking place at Srirangapatna in view of Dasara celebrations.

VOICE OF THE READER

Unwise decision to open tourist spots

Sir,

Apropos the news item "All tourist spots in Mysuru, Mandya open for visitors" (SOM dated Oct.17), it is indeed a very unwise decision now to open all tourist spots during the festival period, after having banned entry to such places earlier.

Although the Government has urged people to follow COVID safety norms strictly, they (people) seem to care two hoots for the same, as is very much evident in the manner they wear their face masks and never maintain social distance whatsoever while at public places.

It is felt that imposing the ban on entry to all tourist spots in Mysuru and Mandya during the festive season is more preferable than opening such places, since there would definitely be large crowds at each of these places, which would only lead to a spurt in COVID-19 positive cases.

Money to be spent on the festivities could instead be used for providing better medical facilities for the COVID-19 patients and people could be urged to watch the festivities live online from the safe confines of their homes, rather than venturing out on the streets. Hope better sense will prevail over the decision.

POLICE
Fear and Affection

Republic TV is in the dock as its senior editors have been booked for allegedly airing "false" news about a "revolt" within the force against Mumbai Police Commissioner. This TV channel has had repeated run-ins with the Mumbai Police over the last several months with its reportage. Though the Mumbai Police say it's not "revenge" for showing them in poor light, we all know Government institutions quite often use their wide powers to "teach you a lesson."

I have personally experienced this. When I was in 6th std., one day at around 11 pm the Police were at our doorstep. They asked us to walk out of our compound and stand on the road in the cold as they had got a call of a bomb threat to our house so they had to check it out immediately. After more than an hour of casual searching, they came out and declared that there was no bomb!

It transpired that my father had written a report that exposed the lacunae among Police personnel during the sensitive LTTE bomb threat period. So the embarrassed city Top Cop made up the bomb threat story to inconvenience him and teach him a lesson. But the cop didn't teach a journalist a lesson, instead his 'sadistic' exercise left two little boys resentful and fearful of the Police.

In most developed nations, when a good citizen sees a Policeman it arouses a sense of security; here it arouses fear and distrust. But when the Police do their job, it is glorious.

Recently, I was reading the well-written and structured autobiography of the legendary Police Commissioner of Mumbai, Rakesh Maria, titled "Let me say it now." Among many anecdotes he narrates I would like to reproduce this one for my readers.

It seems, Maria was posted as ASP at Akola district in Maharashtra; a district proliferated with matka dens. Matka is a form of gambling and a lot of criminal activity flourished under the protection of matka dons and the biggest matka kingpin was a former wrestler called Shravan Bhirad Pehalwan.

Maria writes, "Bhirad had, under his command, a large gang of goondas. People of Akola were mortally afraid of him and even Policemen were wary of crossing swords with him. He had, I was told, considerable political backing. I decided that I would destroy the aura of fear that Bhirad had acquired. I planned a raid on Bhirad's matka den.

Bhirad was a tall, well-built man in his forties and had a thick handlebar moustache that he was very proud of. I was thin, tall and lanky, but I had proficiency in karate. I had been part of the Maharashtra Karate squad that had participated in the Nationals in Bangalore in 1979. So I was quite confident that Bhirad would not have it easy if I met him.

We struck as planned. Bhirad was quite taken aback to see us in his den. Without losing a second, I gave him a well-timed kick to his stomach and he fell. Even in that melee, his moustache was most tempting. Without further ado, I held the handlebars with both my hands and pulled him up from the floor. He did not know what had hit him. We rounded up all the gang members present in the den and took them to the Police Station in a kind of procession, which made quite a grand spectacle.

As expected, this one act sent a powerful message to all the bad elements in Akola city, bringing the lawlessness under control. Our image was definitely restored. Bhirad's arrest had made such a sensation that people used to gather there just to see me! They wanted to catch a glimpse of the new brave Police Officer who had the temerity to pull Bhirad's moustache! This also made it to the local newspapers."

Maria then writes about the moment that brought tears to his eyes and realised how appreciative and grateful common citizens are when the Police do their job.

He writes, "Ganapati festival arrived shortly after my 'victory' over Bhirad Pehelwan. The entire Police force of the city was geared up for the bandobast and I too was on my toes. Immersion processions were proceeding along the designated routes and the usual slogans were being raised. Suddenly, I found the slogans a little strange. Was I hearing right? 'Ganapati Bappa MARIA!' and NOT 'Ganapati Bappa MORYA?' I looked around in disbelief to see if the others too had heard what I had. Or were my ears playing a trick on me? But, my officers and men were grinning from ear to ear; the disarming humour did not fail to blur my vision, momentarily, with a film of moisture it brought to my eyes. Yes, the crowds were acknowledging me in a warm way! What more could you want at that young age when you had just begun your journey in their service!"

Yes, Police service is tough like many other services which involve serving the public but being a kind, empathic, courageous, humane and truly patriotic Police Officer is far tougher, because the only reward you get is people's gratefulness. But then, for a good Police Officer that is the greatest reward and very few ever manage to get it.

Now as for Arnab Goswami and his channel's troubles, it's interesting to note the silence of other TV news channels and news media. Is it because they feel Republic TV is "right" leaning, aggressive and a sensationalist channel which according to them is not journalism? Do they consider themselves "different" from Arnab Goswami?

But aren't they both catering to their respective prejudiced and close-minded audience? Where, as some would say, both Republic TV's Arnab 'loudswami' and NDTV's Ravish "senti" Kumar cater to their respective audience in their own dialogue delivery style.

As Delhi High Court lawyer and columnist Gaurav Sansanwal wrote, "If Arnab Goswami sells 'chest-thumping patriotism', Ravish Kumar, to take an example, sells 'self-pity'. If Arnab has coined the term, 'Lutyen's Media', Ravish is not too far behind with his phrase, 'Godi Media'. If Arnab calls out 'anti-nationals', the likes of Ravish paint everyone they disagree with, as 'fascists'. If Arnab 'shouts' at his viewers, Ravish regularly delivers a 'sermon'—sometimes, from behind a black screen. From the standpoint of biased media, Ravish Kumar's NDTV is not very different from Arnab Goswami's Republic TV. Neither are the digital publications which claim otherwise. The inconvenient truth is that fuelling a public debate on an issue of national importance, and making it seem like a national, existential crisis is the new journalistic norm."

He then goes on to say, "Rajdeep Sardesai, in a widely publicised video, recounts the dastardly 2001 Parliamentary attack, since it happened when he was present in the premises, himself. He claims that he instructed his cameraman to close the gates; for he did not want any other journalist to come in the way of his exclusive access. He describes his ilk as 'vultures'. Vultures or not — none among the lot is holier-than-thou. And therefore, any discussion on journalistic ethics ought to be initiated without claiming, or asserting moral superiority of any kind."

The silent "liberal" media must remember, after BJP came to power, the channel seen as "left" leaning, NDTV, was slapped with a Rs. 2,030 crore notice and then Prannoy Roy, probably the last dignified news anchor on Indian television, was stopped at immigration and not allowed to board a flight. Back then NDTV tweeted "complete subversion of media freedom." Now they are silent!

You may not like Arnab Goswami, his style of journalism, his theatrics, his repulsive diatribes but all you have to do is change the channel. If liberal media keeps mum to what their "political" party is doing in Mumbai, and then right wing media keeps silent to what their "political" party is doing in Delhi, then one day, there will be no thriving media either on the left or the right, there will just be an ignorant void all around us as the powers that be do the same to common citizens.

For now, deserting of Republic TV and Arnab Goswami by other media groups reminds one of Martin Niemoller, the German Pastor who was an outspoken public foe of Adolf Hitler, who said:

First they came for the socialists, and I did not speak out — because I was not a socialist.

Then they came for the trade unionists, and I did not speak out — because I was not a trade unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out — because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me — and there was no one left to speak for me.

40-minute Jumboo Savari

The rehearsal began at 7.45 am and ended within 15 minutes. As Abhimanyu, the Golden Howdah carrying elephant, along with two other Kumki elephants, were brought near the specially erected podium, DCF M.G. Alexander, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, DCF Geetha Prasanna, Assistant Director, Department of Kannada and Culture H. Channappa and others, offered flowers to the wooden howdah carrying Abhimanyu. As soon as they offered flowers, the Police Band played national anthem 'Jana, gana, mana' and the canons fired for 21 times as a mark of respect to Sri Chamundeshwari, the presiding deity of Mysuru.

This was followed by two Nadaswaram troupes, each led by G. Krishnamurthy and A. Puttaswamy with five artistes each troupe, Chande Mela, Stilt walking, Veeraghase Kunita, Chilipili Gombe, tableaux depicting Aane Gaadi with Police Band artistes, Health Department tableau on COVID-19 awareness, Pattada Nadaswara team, Jumboo Savari procession led by Abhimanyu accompanied by four other elephants, Police personnel, Mounted Police, Veterinarians, fire tender and ambulance.

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandrgupta told Star of Mysore that this year's procession will end within 30 minutes to 40 minutes following the State Government's decision to celebrate Dasara in a simple manner. All arrangements are in place for the Monday's grand finale. Security has been made in accordance with the number of persons invited by the District Administration. Sufficient number of personnel have been deployed at all the gates to prevent the citizens from entering the Palace. Only 300 persons will be allowed inside the Palace premises on the Dasara procession day.

Siddaraju of Thayur village in Nanjangud taluk practicing stilt walking at Palace premises today. He balances on two wooden poles of 13 feet each.

No outstation Police

Due to scaling down of Dasara festivities this year, he said Police personnel from other districts have not been drawn into bandobust duty in and around the Palace, as it will be managed by Mysuru City and District Police. The area in front of Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple will be covered with metal barricades on Monday to check the people from entering the Palace. People must sit at home and enjoy live streaming of Jumboo Savari in all Kannada TV channels and on social media platform.

COVID-19 testing

Department of Health conducted RT-PCR test for all artistes in the Palace premises. Two to three doctors in PPE kits collected the swab from them. Results will be sent to them by evening. That report should be showed at the time of entering the Palace premises on Monday.

Breakfast hosted

Former Minister and Udupi-Chikmagalur MP Shobha Karandlaje had arranged breakfast for mahouts, kavadis and assistant mahouts near the Elephant Camp today. Hot on-the-spot masala dosa, piping hot idlis, obbattu, kesaribhath, uddin vada, kaara pongal and lemon tea was served to them. She also had breakfast with them. Shobha has been hosting breakfast or lunch for the mahouts and kavadis since 2008.

74th anniversary of Mysore Chalo

Mysuru, Oct. 24 (PM&DM)- Felicitation of several freedom fighters marked the 74th anniversary of Mysore Chalo Movement organised by Mysuru City and District Freedom Fighters Association at Subbarayanakere Grounds here this morning.

Addressing the gathering, Association General Secretary Prof. H.N. Sathyanarayan, recalling the history of the Movement, said that it paved the way for supplanting the rule of Mysore Maharajas by a democratically elected Government.

Pointing out that when India gained its independence from the British, the then Mysore Maharaja declined to install a democratically accountable Government, following which K.C. Reddy, the then leader of Mysore State Congress, called for the launch of a Satyagraha on Sept. 1, 1947, which was named as Mysore Chalo.

The Satyagraha would persist till the Government issued a Royal proclamation on the formation of a democratically elected Government. The Satyagraha also demanded the release of all political prisoners, Prof. Sathyanarayan said. Later, following massive protests by the people, the Maharaja announced the establishment of a new democratic Government on Oct. 24, 1947, he added.

Educationist Prof. Panditaradhya too spoke on the occasion. Earlier, Corporator Pramila Bharath inaugurated the programme. Marking the occasion, the Flag was unfurled and Mahatma Gandhi's bust at the venue was garlanded.

Association President Y.C. Revanna, office-bearers Puttanna, Lingaiah, Somashekar and others were present.

He will inaugurate the Jumboo Savari procession by offering floral tributes to Goddess Chamundeshwari idol seated inside the Golden Howdah and placed atop Dasara elephant Abhimanyu between 3.40 pm and 4.15 pm. Then he will leave to Bengaluru in a helicopter at 4.30 pm.

Festival shoppers flock city markets

Mysuru, Oct. 24 (RKB&DM)- With just a day left for Ayudha Puja and two days for Vijayadashami, city residents thronged Devaraja and other major markets in city this morning to purchase necessary fruits, vegetables, puja articles and other items required for the celebrations.

People, taking advantage of clear morning skies and a favourable weather, went to the markets on a purchasing spree for Dasara festival, that culminates with 'Jamboo Savari' on Oct. 26.

Despite COVID-19 contagion threat and COVID-19 precautionary and safety measures in place, Devaraja Market in the heart of the city witnessed a steady flow of buyers.

Much to the relief of the citizens, the prices of fruits and vegetables saw only a marginal rise ahead of the annual festival.

Anticipating heavy rush, the MCC had shifted the Flower Market from Devaraja Market to the sprawling J.K. Grounds, located close to the Market, for two days — today and tomorrow.

A large number of people were seen visiting the venue to buy their needed flowers, both in quality and quantity, for Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami. However, some of the buyers were disappointed that the price of flowers had risen considerably ahead of the festival.

While Chrysanthemum (Sevanthige) sold at Rs.80 to 100 a metre, Crossandra (Kanakambara) at Rs. 500 a kg, Jasmine (Mallige) at Rs. 700 a kg, Marigold (Chendu Hoovu) at Rs. 60 per kilo and Button Rose at Rs. 300 a kilo. Also, Banana stem, which is a must for Ayudha Puja for many, was sold at Rs. 40 to 60 a pair, depending upon the length. Apart from Devaraja Market and J.K. Grounds, many vendors, most of them growers from villages in the taluk, were seen selling fruits, vegetables and flowers at all available spaces around the two locations and also in almost all other localities of the city.

S'patna witnesses good turnout for Dasara

Mandya District Minister K.C. Narayanagowda, Deputy Commissioner Dr. M.V. Venkatesh, Srirangapatna MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah and other officials showered flower petals on the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari at Kirangur to mark the inauguration of Srirangapatna Dasara on Friday. Picture right shows artistes performing.

Srirangapatna, Oct. 24 (Vinay Karekura)- Amid COVID-19 pandemic, the Fort Town of Srirangapatna in Mandya district witnessed a traditional Dasara on Friday, drawing large crowds for the grand event.

Mandya District Minister K.C. Narayanagowda inaugurated the one-day Dasara festival by showering petals on the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari at Bannimantapa and offering prayers to Banni tree at Kirangur on K.R. Pet Road. The customary pujas and rituals were performed by a team of priests led by Dr. Bhanuprakash Sharma.

Later, a group of 17 Corona warriors led by Srirangapatna Taluk Medical Officer Dr. M. Venkatesh launched the Dasara procession at Bannimantapa. The procession passed through Kirangur, Baburayanakoppalu, Kuvempu Circle, Municipal Council Circle, Raja Street and Post Office Circle, covering a distance of 4 kms. People had gathered in large numbers all along the procession route, throwing COVID norms to the wind.

Speaking on the occasion, District Minister Narayanagowda said that Srirangapatna Dasara was a low-key affair this year due to the outbreak of the deadly Coronavirus, with the celebration restricted to just one day. Stating that he has prayed the deity to end the COVID-19 contagion once and for all and thus bring peace to the minds of the people, he asserted that there will be a grand Dasara next year.

MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah, in his address, said that Narayanagowda tried hard for getting the Government release Rs. 50 lakh at the last moment for Srirangapatna Dasara. Thanking the Minister and all the Corona warriors for their untiring efforts, he said that he has prayed Goddess Chamundeshwari for the well being of the people and to root out the deadly virus from the globe. Several Corona warriors were felicitated by the District Administration on the occasion.

The event featured several cultural programmes, which chiefly included a music concert by renowned Music Director Gurukiran and a Dance presentation by Aayana and troupe.

Mandya Deputy Commissioner Dr. M.V. Venkatesh, ADC Shylaja, Tahsildar M.V. Roopa and a host of other officials were present on the occasion.

Post-Dasara, RT-PCR result within 24 hours: DC

Rohini Sindhuri

Mysuru, Oct.24 (MTY& SSV)- Post- Dasara, the citizens need not wait for four long days to know result of RT-PCR test conducted free of cost at 23 locations spread across the City as it will be available in 24 hours.

Thanks to the installation of Liquid Handling System at Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI) laboratory, it will be possible to give RT-PCR test result within 24 hours as against the current four days, informed Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri while interacting in a social media platform on Friday.

Stating that COVID-19 testing has been ramped up in the last two to three weeks, she said the testing rate has gone up from 1,200 to nearly 5,000 per day. However, the testing capacity at CFTRI and MMC&RI laboratories are around 1,500 swab samples and the rest are sent to Bengaluru labs for testing where it would take at least four days to announce result. After explaining this to Medical Education and Health Minister Dr.K.Sudhakar, he immediately gave sanction to install the Liquid Handling System at MMC&RI and the work was on. It is likely to become functional after Oct 26. After that, the swab collected here will be tested in that lab and announce results within 24 hours.

No shortage of beds, oxygen

The DC categorically said that there is no shortage of beds and oxygen which are vital in the treatment of COVID-19 patients anywhere in the district. Testing has been ramped up in the last 20-25 days because of which death rate has come down to 1.5 per cent from 2 per cent. Overall parameter has improved in regard to case fatality rate. As per State Government's direction, RT-PCR test is being recommended for people than Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) for accurate result.

Giving details of beds available in Government Hospitals, Rohini said there are 1,946 beds of which 642 are occupied. Besides, there are 211 oxygenated beds and 53 ventilator connected ICU beds. Steps have been initiated to install 50 oxygenated beds in taluk hospitals so that they need not come to district hospitals for treatment. Already, 50 oxygenated beds are available in Nanjangud, T.Narasipur and Periyapatna taluk hospitals.

The DC said people's co-operation was necessary to make Mysuru 'COVID-free' and that was possible if everyone follows the safety norms.
